Allies Launch Attack Near Laotian Front

SAIGON (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam are waging a massive air and ground offensive along 200 miles of the Laotian border trying to block North Vietnamese troops and war supplies destined for South Vietnam and Cambodia.

The South Vietnamese command announced that several thousand troops from its 1st and 2nd infantry divisions and a marine brigade were conducting "several operations" along the border from the demilitarized zone to points southwest of Da Nang.

Other sources reported that U.S. B52 bombing strikes in the Laotian panhandle has been intensified during the past few days.

A spokesman said the ground operations had produced no significant results yet, probably because the monsoon rains in Laos have slowed North Vietnamese activity.

Sources said the South Vietnamese command had no immediate plans to send large ground forces into Laos because the United States fears that might disturb preliminary overtures now under way between the Laotian government and the Pathet Lao.

American sources said some 40 B52s dropped 1,200 tons of bombs during the night on North Vietnamese supply depots along the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos and down to the Cambodian border.

One source said there has been no significant activity in Vietnam since July 1 and there are "no good targets in South Vietnam for the B52s. So they go into Laos to hit supply areas."

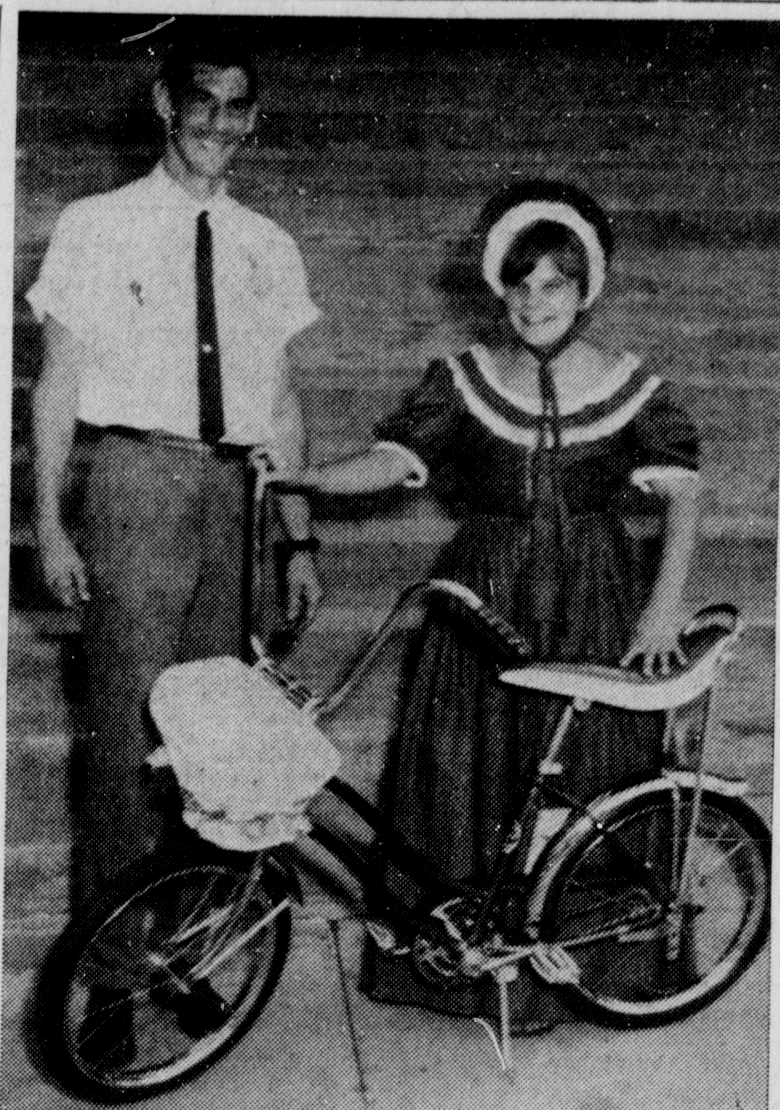

Some American troops are involved in the ground offensive though the bulk of the force is South Vietnamese. Troops of the U.S. 196th Light Infantry Brigade were attacked early today at the Kham Duc artillery base 13 miles from the border.

Moving behind a 60-round mortar barrage, about 35 North Vietnamese sappers blasted their way to the base perimeter, triggering a two-hour fight in which 15 North Vietnamese and two Americans were reported killed and 14 Americans wounded. Light material damage also was reported.

It was the first serious attack on Kham Duc since the base was reopened three weeks ago to support the border operations. The base had been abandoned more than two years ago under heavy North Vietnamese pressure.

U.S. ground forces also reported killing 33 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers in three small clashes Tuesday at points 8 to 69 miles southeast of Da Nang. No American casualties were reported. These clashes occurred considerably to the east of the border offensive.

SWEETSTAKES WINNER — Beth Doyle, 914 Yeoman St., was the sweepstakes winner in the annual bike and trike parade Wednesday morning. Daniel Terhune, chairman of the Old Fashioned Bargain Days Program, presented Beth with a new bicycle as the grand prize. Beth's bike and outfit were judged to be the most in keeping with the theme of the Old Fashioned Days.

Parade Opens Bargain Days

Nearly 50 boys and girls riding gaily decorated bikes and trikes through the business district inaugurated the fifth annual four-day Old Fashioned Bargain Days event here Wednesday morning.

The parade was only the first of the attractions planned by the 32 sponsoring merchants. PTA and PTO groups will stage a carnival on Main Street Thursday. Several stores will have old fashioned apple pies for sale at 25 cents each.

The first of the sidewalk sales will be held Friday. Merchandise in a wide variety will be displayed in front of the stores; clerks will be in old fashioned dress to lend a bit of color to the old time atmosphere. The Kiwanis Club will have an old fashioned ice cream social on the Courthouse lawn in the evening.

THE SIDEWALK sales will continue through Saturday with an antique car show, starting at 8 a.m., and bazaar by the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary as the added attractions. The Auxiliary will offer homemade cakes and pies for sale and sandwiches and pie and cake for lunch, starting about 10:30 a.m.

New merchandise contributed by the merchants, and an

Tate Case Defense Lawyer Jailed; Brought Newspaper

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A defense attorney is spending three nights in the same jail as Charles H. Manson, the shaggy-haired clan leader who briefly halted the Sharon Tate murder trial by flashing at the jury a newspaper headline reading: "Manson Guilty, Nixon Declares."

The trial judge ruled attorney Daye Shinn committed "a willful and deliberate contempt" of court by leaving the paper with in Manson's reach at the counsel table. Shinn said he'd done it by mistake.

Manson's move came Tuesday after Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older denied without comment a defense motion for a mistrial based on Nixon's statement—later withdrawn—that Manson was guilty directly or indirectly of eight murders.

Defense attorneys said later they would consider a further mistrial motion based on their contention that the jury has been "tainted" by exposure to Nixon's statements, made to newsmen in Denver Monday.

"This is a massive kind of prejudice," said Paul Fitzgerald, attorney for Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, one of four defendants charged with killing Miss Tate and six others a year ago. He added: "What we want to analyze is what would happen if such a motion were granted. Would it be humanly possible to find a jury that hadn't been tainted by publicity?"

Older said that since Nixon's remarks were made he had ordered special precautions to protect jurors from exposure to the news reports. He had windows made opaque on buses that ferry jurors to court and ordered their access to telephones, radio and television suspended.

"I'm satisfied there has been no exposure," he said. Shinn, attorney for Susan Atkins, 21, was the third defender to be jailed in the past week. Ronald Hughes, representing Leslie Van Houten, 20, was locked up for a night for making an obscene comment during a bench conference. Irving Kanarek, Manson's lawyer, spent a night in custody for numerous interruptions of the testimony of the state's star witness, Linda Kasabian. Shinn will be permitted to continue in court.

When Manson held up the paper—an early edition of Tuesday's Los Angeles Times—all attorneys were huddled at the bench in conference with the judge. Deputy Dist. Atty. Aaron Stovitz spotted Manson and shouted: "Your honor!"

A bailiff quickly grabbed the paper from Manson.

KSU Protest Peaceful

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Kent State University's first student demonstration since four students were fatally shot in a confrontation with Ohio National Guardsmen on May 4 ended peacefully Tuesday.

About 100 students, charging the administration with "once again attempting to rape our campus in the interest of allowing more automotive pollutants to grace our university," took part in a 90-minute protest Tuesday against expansion of a campus parking lot.

The demonstration ended when Ronald S. Ber, assistant to KSU President Robert I. White, read a statement from White in which White said, "We have called off all operations (on the parking lot) until Monday to allow for dissemination of information which should have been given earlier."

"PLEASE STAND BY" is the message from the Corpus Christi, Tex., television station operating this tower, left stretching through a parking lot by hurricane Celia. A number of automobiles are more or less flattened.

Damage Estimates Near $300 Million

Hurricane Death Toll 32

8,950 Homes Destroyed In Texas Towns

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Estimates of damage near $300 million today in Texas' Coastal Bend vacation area in the wake of Hurricane Celia. The storm claimed 32 lives, 13 in Texas.

Figures kept mounting on death and destruction from the effects of Celia's blows in the Corpus Christi area and northward into Mexico, where the storm finally beat itself out Tuesday.

The Red Cross reported about 65,000 families suffered losses. It said an estimated 8,950 homes were destroyed and 13,850 others dealt major damage. An urgent appeal for $6 million in relief funds was issued by Red Cross Chairman E. Roland Hariman.

Five persons perished as the storm battered across Cuba and 14 drowned in Florida waters turned turbulent by the storm's passage through the Gulf of Mexico.

With damage to more than three-fourths of the buildings and houses in Corpus Christi and dozens of neighboring towns, officials tentatively put the property damage total around $233 million. Crop losses were estimated at nearly $60 million.

Winds ranged up to 160 miles per hour, the Weather Bureau said, as Celia surged ashore Monday across Corpus Christi Bay. Before crossing the international border to hit Mexico's mountains, it still packed winds as high as 89 m.p.h. The big storm dealt lessening blows as far as 250 miles inland.

However, Celia brought rains amounting to less than nine inches along the watershed of the Rio Grande, where downpours up to 30 inches set off massive floods on the heels of Hurricane Beulah in 1967. There

By a vote of better than two to one, the Israeli parliament Tuesday night endorsed the government's acceptance of the American plan for a 90-day cease-fire and indirect peace negotiations with the Arabs.

Meanwhile, five Arab nations decided to go ahead with a meeting in Tripoli despite an Iraqi boycott. Motar fire from Lebanon wounded five Israeli teen-agers in a border settlement, and Israeli troops killed three Arab guerrillas on the Lebanese and Jordanian borders.

Before the 66-28 vote in the Knesset, Israel's parliament, Premier Golda Meir said Israeli troops would remain in Arab territory captured during the 1967 war until a binding peace agreement is reached.

Even then, she said, Israel "will not return to the 1967 borders" but will pull back to "secure, recognized and agreed boundaries to be determined in the peace agreement."

Withdrawal of Israeli troops from the captured territory is a stipulation of the U.N. Security Council resolution of Nov. 22, 1967, which is to serve as the basis of the new peace talks. But the Israelis have said repeatedly they will never surrender Old Jerusalem, the Arab sector of the city, and are also expected to insist on holding the Golan Heights, seized from Syria; the Gaza Strip, taken from Egypt, and possibly the Sinai coast past the Strait of Tiran, which overlooks the southern water route to Israel.

Israel also captured the Jordanian territory on the west bank of the Jordan River and the rest of the Sinai desert from Egypt.

Mrs. Meir said her government "continues to feel grave doubts" about Arab readiness to recognize Israel's right to exist. But she said the government feels it must not forego the new prospect for peace, "slight though it may be."

Deputy Premier Yisrael Alon

told the Knesset he believes the United States has checked the direct "Soviet involvement in Egypt" by making its opposition to this clear both in public statements and "through ways that were not published."

He said that while this did not get the Russians out of Egypt, "I assume it has determined very serious limits with regard to the future." He added that the Soviets probably would not have done as much as they have if the United States had taken its stand earlier.

Report Obscenity Does Not Hike Crime, Corrupt Young

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's Commission on Pornography has reached the tentative conclusion that obscenity does not cause sex crimes or corrupt youngsters' morals.

Discounting two overriding fears of effects of the current wave of sexual freedom in films, books and magazines, the first draft prepared by the commission staff says:

"There is no evidence to suggest that exposure (of youngsters) to pornography has a detrimental impact upon moral character, sexual orientation or attitudes."

And:

"Research indicates that erotic materials do not contribute to the development of character defects, nor operate as a significant factor in antisocial behavior or in crime. In sum, there is no evidence that exposure to pornography operates as a cause of misconduct in either youths or adults."

The commission's report is not to be released until late this month, but most of the first draft has been leaked to a House subcommittee that is trying to whip up hearings to challenge the findings next week.

Other major findings in more than 300 pages of the report obtained by The Associated Press—all subject to revision or deletion from the final report:

—Women as well as men are "highly aroused" by stag films and erotic pictures. Tests often showed that women who did not think they were aroused actually were.

—Political conservatives are not as easily aroused by pornography as liberals.

—Despite the arousal and in some cases increased sexual activity in the 24 hours after seeing highly erotic material, basic attitudes and sexual patterns do not change.

—In general, 90 per cent of couples aged 20 to 25 were aroused by erotic films in three studies, while between 30 and 60 per cent of persons 40 to 50 years of age were aroused by the same films.

—"There are no recorded instances of sexual aggression, homosexuality, lesbianism, exhibitionism, or sexual abuse of children attributable to reading or viewing erotic stimuli among the several hundred participants in the twelve experiments reviewed."

The 18-member presidential commission of experts approved by Congress two years ago to conduct a $2 million investigation of the effects of pornography reportedly has not approved any of the report and much of it is to be rewritten.

But the major two findings, that pornography does not cause sex crimes or corrupt minors, reportedly were still in the draft report as of Tuesday.

11 Men Die As Blaze Hits Building

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Eleven men, most of them elderly, died in a blaze that swept a three-story building in downtown Minneapolis early today. Four persons were hospitalized in critical condition.

Fire officials said nine others escaped, one by climbing down a rope strung out from a window on the top floor.

The blaze apparently started in a wooden outdoor stairway on the back, firemen said. The cause was not immediately known. The interior of the second and third floors were destroyed but the first floor was less severely damaged. A preliminary loss estimate was put at $150,000.

Nixon, House Panel Back Higher Farm Subsidy Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and the House Agriculture Committee have endorsed a $55,000-per-acre limit on farm subsidies but chances of passing a ceiling that high are rated no better than even.

Some House members are holding out for a $20,000 limit. There is no limit in present law on how much a farmer can get from the federal government for not growing crops.

President Nixon jumped into the fray Tuesday by supporting the $55,000 limit approved by the Agriculture Committee for each of the cotton, feed grains and wheat categories.

Despite the President's opposition, Reps. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., and Paul Findley, R-Ill., forged ahead with their bipartisan drive for the $20,000 figure for the same three crops plus wool. They also want to make sure the law is not evaded through such tactics as subdivision of farms.

The controversy over the payment limitation has been the chief one surrounding the committee-approved three-year major farm bill to which the $55,000 ceiling is attached.

The existing farm program expires at the end of the year.

House Democratic farm leaders agreed Tuesday to put the bill back on today's docket after a Nixon letter to Rep. Page Belcher, R-Okla., ranking GOP member of the House committee, outlined the chief executive's position.

House Democratic Whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana said, however, that he didn't consider Nixon's stand a firm one. "He's on both sides," Boggs told the House.

In the letter, Nixon said he subscribes to the analysis by the House committee and his secretary of agriculture, Clifford Hardin, "that too low a limitation would make it impossible for many farm producers to participate efficiently in the program."

"You may, therefore, inform your colleagues," he wrote Belcher, "that despite the obvious appeal of a lower limit, for these technical reasons I must prefer the limitation proposed by your committee."

The 188 House Republicans still were divided on the payment issue after Nixon's letter was read during a closed meeting Tuesday which preceded debate on the bill.

Twice in past years the House has voted for a $20,000 payment limitation but that came on separate appropriations bills to finance the Agriculture Department. On both occasions, however, it was scuttled in a House-Senate conference.

Predict Widespread Teacher Strikes In Fall

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teacher labor leaders predict that union activity will gain momentum this fall in urban, suburban and rural schools of all 50 states, bringing with it the increased chance of teacher strikes.

Their forecasts come after a decade which saw dramatic escalation in the number of teacher walkouts. In the past three years there have been 425 teacher strikes—nearly six times as many as there were in the previous seven years. The labor movement, which was confined mostly to elementary and secondary schools in the 1960s, now has begun to spread to the two-year and four-year colleges.

Both the National Education Association, with 1.1 million members, and the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers, with 200,000 members, are actively organizing higher education personnel.

"The most dramatic change in the next few years will be in the field of higher education," said Robert H. Chanin, NEA general counsel. "There will be a revolt of staff relations to administration in every university."

In three years the NEA affiliate, National Higher Education Association, has chartered 157 chapters with 7,770 members at two-year colleges and 132 locals with 23,000 members at four-year schools.

Negotiations now under way in New Jersey with 14 state colleges are at an impasse that could lead to a strike showdown, Chanin said in an interview.

AFT spokesman John Converse said his organization has enlisted 15,900 higher education members spread over 200 locals. He said at the "present time the only place we are having difficulty is at Seattle Community College."

Adding thrust to the educators' labor movement are new laws in Hawaii and Pennsylvania legalizing teacher strikes.

Similar legislation is sought by both teacher groups at state and national levels.

What happens in Pennsylvania will be watched closely by the NEA and AFT.

"Pennsylvania could be smooth if the school boards play the game," said Chanin. "We don't expect them to love it but we hope they will accept it and bargain in good faith."

Pennsylvania had 15 teacher strikes last year and Chanin

Timbuctoo's Still There

Trips to our-of-the-way places have become so common as to arouse speculation whether there still are any spots, historic and picturesque, that have not been reached by travel tours. One such has recently been pointed out by Ruth G. Bergman in the New York Times. That place is Timbuctoo at the edge of the vast Sahara desert.

In the Middle Ages Timbuctoo was a familiar but mysterious name. It was reputed to be fabulously wealthy, and to have a great Moslem university barred off by many miles of sandy desert. All that was true, but apparently no European braved the Sahara to make a visit.

The first recorded Westerner in Timbuctoo was an American sailor named Robert Adams, who was kidnapped and brought there. The first visitor to describe the place accurately was a Frenchman, Rene Caillie, in 1828. He depicted a town near the Niger River, the meeting place of traders who arrived by boat and camel.

Timbuctoo has changed little since the early years of the 19th century. It is still a mass of blocks of caked mud. Its chief business is the shipment of salt, mined 400 miles away to points in Europe, Africa and Asia. A city of impoverished people with an uncertain future, it cherishes its exotic past.

As The Truth Squads Keep Marching

THESE DAYS By John Chamberlain

During the 1968 Democratic National Convention the Republicans sent a "truth squad" to Chicago consisting of Gov. Love of Colorado, Donald Rumsfeld, now of the Office of Economic Opportunity, and Pat Buchanan, Nixon's early "apostle to the conservatives."

The idea was to provide a quick deployment of facts to combat misrepresentations by the opposition. The boys were kept busy.

In his own way Vice President Spiro Agnew has continued the tradition of the "truth squad," with Pat Buchanan at his elbow. But if volunteers and amateurs weren't busy pitching in to catch up with the distortions spread by zealots and propagandists we'd be in a fine pickle to know what's going on.

There were the headlines created by the first Scranton committee witnesses on the background of the Kent State University killings, for example. The gravamen (to use an Arthur Schlesinger word) of much of the early testimony was that Spiro Agnew and Richard Nixon were to blame for the campus tragedy. But the editors of the American Legion Magazine, volunteering as a "truth squad," have published (in their July issue) the digest made by the U. S. House of Representatives Committee on Internal Security of its hearings on Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) activities at Kent State during 1968-69.

The hearings leave no doubt that the SDS had selected Kent State for a major confrontation. Actually, the "hard core" of the Kent State campus SDS comprised fewer than 25 members out of a college enrollment of 21,000.

THERE WOULD have been no "background of violence" at Kent State if the Ohio regional SDS office at Cleveland hadn't sent its staff members—identified by the House committee as Corky Benedict, Lisa Meisel, Terry Robbins, Bobbi Smith, and Charlie Tabasko—to Kent State for "rap" sessions in the dormitories and for rallies and film showings. The SDS brought Weathermen Mark Rudd, Columbia University's nemesis, and Bernadine Dorn to Kent and kept a hullabaloo going all year.

In April a former Kent student, identified in the House committee report as Joyce Cecora, called for armed rebellion at Kent.

"They used guns at Cornell," she is quoted as saying, "and they got what they wanted. It will come to that here."

THERE IS more of this sort of incendiary stuff in the House summary. In the spring of 1970 came the payoff: the American Legion editors say the SDS wanted martyrs and it got them. On May 2 arsonists burned the ROTC building on the Kent campus to the ground. Students threw rocks at the firemen and chopped the fire hoses.

Students and non-students had previously rioted through the town of Kent, smashing windows. Just before the fatal shootings on the Kent State campus students were throwing rocks at the National Guard, some of whom were finally panicked into firing live bullets when their tear gas was exhausted.

IF ONE is permitted to make a choice between Spiro Agnew and the Cleveland regional SDS office as the creators of a certain atmosphere at Kent State, whom would you name as the villain? The American

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Higher Fence May Solve Neighbor Talk

DEAR ABBY: I dread summer because my next door neighbor is a pest. We rarely see her in the winter, but the moment one of us goes outside to hang up the clothes, work in the yard, or if my husband wants to wash the car—she's right there with a constant stream of chatter. If we go outside to just sit, she comes over and joins us. Other neighbors get pestered, too, but we get more of her because she's right next door.

This woman has a husband and two school-aged children. She doesn't work outside the home, and judging from the time she spends outside, talking to anyone who happens by, she doesn't do anything inside the home either. We put up a fence 2 years ago, but she leans over it and talks a blue streak.

We have lived here for 25 years, our children are grown and the house is paid for. We've always gotten along well with our neighbors. Short of moving, what can we do?

PESTERED IN SUMMER
DEAR ABBY: How about a higher fence?

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a very serious and humiliating problem. I am a woman, 21, and I snore so loudly that sometimes I wake myself up.

I'm going with a man who has asked to marry me, and I am worried about sleeping with him and experiencing the embarrassment of keeping him awake with my snoring.

I know that I must snore very, very loudly because whenever I have slept away from home (camp, college, and overnight as a house guest) I have been kidded about my snoring.

This is becoming a monumental hang-up. Abby, is there anything a doctor can do to help me? Any other suggestions will be appreciated.

DEAR ZZZZZ: First, see a doctor. If your snoring is due to a nasal obstruction, the doctor may be able to eliminate it (or tone it down) by performing minor surgery. ("Minor surgery" is an operation performed on someone else.) If that doesn't help, tell your fiancé you snore before you marry him. There are enough "surprises" after marriage without this nocturnal nuisance.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please rush me the name of a boarding school near Philadelphia that accepts boys who are not yet 4 years old? I think my son needs to live away from home in order to grow up.

I am a divorcee who works, and my mother (a widow) lives with me and looks after Johnny. Lately Johnny has been going back to his baby ways. He wets the bed, sucks his thumb, and refuses to eat unless someone feeds him. My mother is exhausted every evening when I come home. She can't handle him. Now Johnny won't go to sleep unless I take him in my bed and I have a terrible time getting away in the morning to go to work. This all started about 6 months ago. Please help me.

END OF ROPE
DEAR ABBY: From your letter, I think the last thing your child needs is to be sent to a boarding school. He is trying to tell you that he needs your love and attention. Ask your pediatrician to recommend a specialist in child behavior.

Jumping To Conclusions

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

There is more money in old love letters than old coins. Everybody has written at least one missive of this kind he'd pay to get back if it fell in the wrong hands—not because the letter threatens the security of his home life but because it makes him sound silly.

It has been a long time since I saw a woman with a wooden clothespin in her mouth. Don't they wear them anymore?

The reason some people prefer dental floss to toothpicks is that while using the floss they have an excuse to look in the mirror and admire themselves.

One of the greatest pleasures in life is to watch the fun a child has while riding a merry-go-round. America would be a happier place if the government, instead of providing political circus, would build enough merry-go-rounds so that adults as well as children could get at least two free rides every week.

No matter how long you've been a friend, no girl will ever forgive you if you yawn while she's showing you her engagement ring for the first time.

Many women today are righteously refusing to buy furs made of cheetahs or leopards because these forms of wild life are threatened by possible extinction. But if they go right on skinning the American husband, won't he become a vanishing species too?

Half the guys who dig into a street wastebasket for a thrown-away newspaper to read don't do it because they are broke. They do it because they have enlisted in the ever-growing army of people who will do almost anything to get something for nothing.

If everybody practiced what he preached, soon there'd be no need for preaching. Then where would the world be?

Everybody in trouble looks for any help he can get, but in the end most of us have to cure our own hangnails and hang-ups.

If two boys come over to visit your teen-age daughter, you can bet that the one she chatters to and giggles with the most is not the one she's interested in.

Railroads Move Gigantic Mirror

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Three railroads have begun the delicate job of moving a giant mirror from Toledo to Tucson, Ariz. The 17.6-ton mirror blank was made by Owens-Illinois, Inc., of Toledo for use in the telescope of the Cerro Tololo Inter-American Observatory near La Serena, Chile, 7,500 miles from the mirror's place of origin.

The Penn Central, Southern Pacific and Cotton Belt railroads are transporting the mirror, valued at $665,000, on the 2,500-mile first leg of its trip to Tucson. A custom-built container and a specially designed flat-car are being used to insure safe delivery.

The mirror will be ground and polished in Tucson—a two-year job—then sent via rail, ship and truck to its final destination high in the Andes Mountains.

Thatchers Have Reunion

The 14th annual Thatcher family reunion was held in Bloomingburg, by 73 relatives and friends from Dayton, Columbus, Delaware, Mt. Perry and Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thatcher, of Portsmouth, were elected chairman for the 1971 reunion.

The older people enjoyed movies of past reunions, while children tossed eggs, water balloons and played games. Fortune cookies were also enjoyed by the little ones.

Lahainaluna High School on the island of Maui is the oldest American school west of the Rockies. Founded in 1831, it drew students from California families who reasoned that it was safer to send their children across 2,400 miles of open Pacific than through the wilds of North America to eastern schools, according to the National Geographic Society's book Hawaii.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN E. STEVENSON

Lawn Reception Follows Stinson-Stevenson Wedding

Miss Bethany Stinson and Mr. John Evans Stevenson exchanged marriage vows in the Clarksburg Methodist Church Sunday. The Rev. Orville Farmer performed the double-ring ceremony, at 2:30 p.m. before an altar enhanced with an arrangement of white gladioli, white carnations, baby's breath and blue ribbon.

A pair of tiered brass candelabra entwined with emerald green foliage and light blue satin ribbon was in the background and blue satin bows and leather leaf foliage marked the aisles. Seven-branch candelabra with arrangements of the same flowers were at each side of the altar.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Byron Stinson, Rt. 1, Clarksburg, and Mrs. Madonna Stevenson, Clarksburg, and the late Flourney David Stevenson.

Mr. Willis Cleary, organist, presented a half-hour prelude of music.

As the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, she was wearing a gown of ivory silk organza and alencon lace. The A-line silhouette of the gown featured a high neckline, long bishop sleeves and an empire waistline. A full detachable train flowed gracefully into chapel length and was edged with alencon lace. She wore a matching alencon lace crown which held her bouffant silk illusion veil. She carried an informal pendant of white daisies and leather leaf foliage.

Maid of honor Miss Pam Peterson, of Frankfort, cousin of the bride, and Miss Nancy Ater and Miss Carol Reisinger, both of Clarksburg, wore floor-length gowns of blue linen. They were fashioned in the A-line silhouette. The fitted bodice featured a bateau neckline, short sleeves and an empire waistline accented with daisies. The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet of rainbow colored daisies, miniature carnations, baby's breath and purple statice with rainbow ribbon showers. The bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of daisies and carnations in rainbow colors, with baby's breath and rainbow showers of ribbon.

Junie Johnson, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a long light blue dotted Swiss dress with empire waistline and carried a white lace basket of rainbow colors of daisies, miniature carnations and ribbon showers.

Mrs. Stinson chose a pink silk A-line frock with matching hat and shoes with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a lime green jersey sheath with white accessories. Both wore rainbow corsages of miniature carnations and daisies.

The grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Frank Manly and Mrs. Anna Lee Stinson, wore yellow and pale blue frocks with matching and white accessories. Hostesses for the reception under a canopy on the lawn at the bride's parents' home were Miss Sally Stinson, cousin of the bride, and the Misses Lavern and Elaine Hill, nieces of the bridegroom.

For going-away the bride wore a light orchid one-piece jersey dress with darker orchid accessories and an orchid corsage.

The couple will reside at 980 W. King Ave., Apt. 1, Bldg. 2, Columbus.

The bride, a 1969 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is employed by Snelling and Snelling as receptionist. Her husband, a 1966 Adena High School graduate, attended Ohio University branch classes, Chillicothe, and will enroll at Ohio State University in pre-law this fall. He is presently employed by Westinghouse in Columbus.

Following rehearsal on Saturday evening dinner was entertained at the Terrace Lounge, for members of the bridal party.

Miss Bloomer Completes Wedding Plans

Miss Nicola Sue Bloomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bloomer, of Bloomingburg, has completed plans for her open church wedding to Mr. Edward E. Eyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Eyre, of Leesburg.

The marriage will take place in the Bloomingburg United Methodist at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Vincent will present a prelude of organ selections beginning at 2 p.m. Mrs. Lloya Fenig will be the vocalist. The Rev. Henry A. Simmons and the Rev. Emery Moyer will perform the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Bloomer has asked Miss Rebecca Ellen Sollars, of Bloomingburg, to be her maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Pamela John Baber, of Jeffersonville, Cheryl Kay Snider, of Sabina, Mrs. Jeff Pollard, of Richmond, Ky., and the junior bridesmaid will be Miss Karla Elise Johnson, of Bloomingburg, Crystal Matthews, of Bloomingburg, will be the flower girl.

Bill Maggard Jr., of Louisville, Ky., will serve as best man. Seating the wedding guests will be Jeff Bloomer, of Tampa, Fla., Robert Lanman and Michael Lanman, of Leesburg, and Terry Allemang, of Englewood. Master Jonathan Bloomer, of Washington C. H., will be the ring bearer and Donald V. Eyre, of Leesburg, the acolyte.

Senior hostesses for the reception in the church social room following the wedding ceremony will be Mrs. Robert W. Moyer, of Wilmington, Mrs. Wendell Allemang, of Englewood, Mrs. Russell Lanman, of Leesburg, Mrs. Charles Snider, Sabina and Mrs. Charles Andrews and Mrs. John Sollars, of Bloomingburg.

Junior hostesses will be Mrs. Terry Miracle, Leesburg, Miss Mary Jane King and Miss Ginger Weade, of Washington C. H., Miss Jeanie Andrews, of Bloomingburg, Miss Peggy Pence, of Greenhills, and Mrs. Duane Smith of Columbus. Miss June Carsey, of Fairfield, will preside at the guest book.

Mrs. G. B. Vance, Mrs. Charles S. Hire, Mrs. Jane McCoy Gardner, of Washington C. H. and Mrs. Eva Moffatt, sister of Mrs. Vance, of Woodsfield have returned home after an 18-day trip to Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia.

MISS CHARLENE METZGER

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Metzger, Rt. 6, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Charlene, to Mr. Michael Ray Ransdell, son of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Tootle, Rt. 1, Frankfort.

Miss Metzger, a 1968 graduate of Adena High School, Frankfort, is now attending Ohio State University, where she is a junior, majoring in home economics education.

Mr. Ransdell was graduated from Adena High School in 1969 and is presently a sophomore at OSU. He is in the College of Agriculture, majoring in plant pathology.

A definite date for the wedding has not been set.

Country Club Dance Held

"Sailor's Holiday" was the theme for the dance Saturday night at the Country Club. Music was by the Luther Bolen band, of Chillicothe.

Decorations consisted of nets on the walls and sea shells and bottles with notes in them on the tables.

Finger foods were served from a refreshment table.

Chairmen were Mr. and Mrs. Phil Morrow, Dr. and Mrs. George Pommert, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Willoughby.

The next dance is planned for Oct. 31, Halloween.

David Marshall Echols, three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David O. Echols, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralston Smith, 441 East St., while his parents are vacationing in the South.

Will Observe Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Long, 520 S. Fayette St., will observe their golden wedding anniversary quietly, at their home Thursday. They were married Aug. 6, 1920, in St. Mary's rectory in Delaware, by the Rev. Fr. Wagner.

Mr. Long has been projectonist at the Fayette Theater for the past 40 years.

They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Max (Theresa) Wilson, 133 N. Oakland Ave., Mrs. Dwight (Mary Catherine) Davis, of Circleville, and Mrs. James (Patsy) Eubanks, 520 S. Fayette St. They have seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Joe Dickerson, of New Lexington, was the weekend houseguest of Miss Ginny Smith and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralston Smith, while she was a guest of him and his family last Wednesday through Friday.

Mrs. Meredith Club Hostess

Mrs. Donald Meredith was hostess for the meeting of the Washington Garden Club when eight members and two guests assembled at her home. Mrs. William Summers opened the meeting with the poem, "Summer."

Fair ribbons were given to members for specimens exhibited and flower arrangements.

Members will meet at 9:30 a.m. Aug. 11 at the home of Mrs. Jimmie Hutchinson and then go on a field tour to collect materials for making dried flower arrangements.

Since no program was planned, the schedule for Sept. 11 flower show were completed. The show will be at the home of Mrs. Eulalia Wade and Mrs. Jessie Biehn, of Wilmington, will be the judge. The theme for the show will be "Come Acalling."

Mrs. Ed Hidy won an award during the evening and Miss Connie Summers and Miss Jane Callender were welcomed as new members.

The hostess and Mrs. T. N. Willis served refreshments.

Round About The County

By B. E. KELLEY

There is an age-old belief that frost may be expected six weeks after the first katydids are heard, and they are now singing, loud and long, in the hill areas, but I have not heard a single one in this immediate area.

Sunday night we were visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Zicafoose, who own a part of Spruce Hill where there is much evidence that Norsemen operated a series of iron furnaces in pre-Columbian days, and there we heard our first katydids of the season.

The Zicafoose home is close to the foot of the big hill, with Paint Creek 200 yards to the north. As we were leaving around 10:40 p.m. there was a great chorus of night-singing insects including large numbers of katydids.

As we drove eight miles back into Bournville, and home by way of Bainbridge over Ohio 41 to Greenfield, we could hear the noisy big green grasshopper-like insects calling their name from the hillsides and clumps of bushes along the roadway.

The white tree crickets were not as abundant along the route home as they are right here in Washington C. H. and their hollow toned fiddling is timed by the weather. If the nights are cool, the tree crickets (and they do not seem to halt their fiddling when a flashlight is turned of them) "sing" slowly, but the warmer the night the faster their notes are cast to the night air. Recently when the mercury was above 70 at night, I timed one of the insects at 82 times a minute. On a cool night the time was 42 a minute.

For the next few weeks the great chorus of the nocturnal insects including several kinds of crickets, will continue without interruption unless it rains, and that stills most of these noisy night singers.

DID NOT SURVIVE

Thirty years ago 40 pairs of Hungarian partridges were released at what were believed to be strategic points in Fayette County. Indications are that hunters, predators and the general surroundings which were not to their liking, resulted in the project being an almost complete failure. I have not heard of any of the birds being left of the original 40 pair.

One night driving homeward on Ohio 38 north of Sedalia one of the Hungarian partridges flew up and was struck by our car. Upon reaching home I discovered the dead bird wedged in the front of the car, and turned it over to the local game protector, who I believe, mounted it.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Makers and Jobbers had united to boost clothing prices, according to an Assistant U. S. attorney general, who planned to file suit for violating a federal law.

War clouds were hanging low over Europe with the Russians marching toward Warsaw, and England was preparing her navy and army for any eventuality.

Gov. James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for president, in the presence of a huge throng in Dayton, gave his speech of acceptance, standing firmly for the peace treaty and League of Nations, branding delay in acceptance as a disgrace to the nation, and scoring Sen. Lodge.

Several thousand people attended the Ford Motor Car power farming demonstration on the Robert Howatt farm where an oats field was torn up and reseeded in the demonstration.

While the U. S. was investigating "financial wizard" Charles Ponzi's company in Boston, lines of investors were being paid upon demand.

Deaths: Miss Florence Vincent, 24; Arthur Harley, 72; Louis Smith, farmer, Waterloo Road.

Mrs. Wert Wolfe, bitten by a copper head snake while picking berries in the hill area, recovered after becoming seriously ill.

Daniel Willard, B&O Railroad president and other officials of the road passed through here over the former CH&D rails.

Bradford, Ohio, had a conflagration causing in excess of a million dollars damage.

J. E. Green and Hi Bolin sold their meat market to D. B. Willhite, who operated a real estate office here.

The new population of Washington C. H. was 7,962 again of 685 in 10 years.

The wheat price jumped 17 cents in a day to $2.30 per bushel, due to new European war threat.

The Fayette County Hampshire Breeders Association's sale of 40 brood sows averaged $97.60 cents a head, with the top $255.

A new corn disease in Ross county resulted in seeping wounds developing and stalks dying within few days.

Five B&O officials were guests of the Dutch Treat Club and problems of business were discussed.

Wheat and oats threshing were near the end, with steam threshing outfits being used.

Following heavy rioting in Denver, Colo., by street car strikers, their sympathizers, and strike breakers, in which two were killed and 34 badly injured, 2,000 citizens were deputized to preserve order.

A wireless operator's club was formed here, with Loren Stewart, president, Thomas DeWees, treasurer, and Miles Masters, secretary.

The shortest yet admitted to probate was contested in "Thorn vs. Dickens" in 1906. It consisted of three words "All for Mother."

The bidding:

4♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead — two of diamonds.

Let's say you have the East hand and South opens with four spades, which West and North pass. It is certainly not clear what you should bid at this point, for anything you elect to do may turn out well or badly, depending on how your partner is fixed.

As it happens, your best move is to pass, so let's assume you are brilliant enough to take that course of action. West leads the deuce of diamonds and South wins your queen with the ace. Declarer plays the ace of trumps, your partner producing the jack, and now you have your second problem: What should you discard on the ace of spades?

Actually, there is only one correct discard—the queen of hearts! If you make this play, the contract is sure to go down, for whenever declarer leads a heart your partner will grab the ace and lead diamonds to put the contract down one.

But if you were to play any other card on the ace of spades and declarer now led a heart, it is by no means certain that your partner would rise with the ace. He might reasonably decide to duck on the basis that declarer, with a doubleton heart, could misguess the situation by playing the jack from dummy.

Actually, it is entirely reasonable to discard the queen of hearts to prevent your partner from going wrong. You learn from partner's jack of spades play at trick two that declarer started with nine spades, and you already know from partner's deuce of diamonds lead (his fourth best diamond) that declarer started with three diamonds.

It follows from this that South cannot possibly have more than one heart, and you must therefore play the Big Brother role to stop partner from making a mistake.

Jury Visits Crime Site

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Jurors quietly visited the basement of a state trooper's home where the state claims Eastern Michigan University freshman Karen Sue Beineman was slain a year ago.

The surprise visit came after Judge John W. Conlin recessed the court an hour early in the case of John Norman Collins, 23, who is charged with first degree murder in the coed's death. Earlier Monday, a laboratory technician testified he believed hair removed from the undergarment of Miss Beineman was "similar in all respects and of a common origin" with that taken from the basement of the home of State Police Sgt. David Leik.

The prosecution contends that the coed was killed in the Leik basement while the Leik family was on vacation. Leik is the uncle of Collins and has testified he gave Collins the keys to the home to feed the family dog.

Charge Cincy Man With Manslaughter

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 27-year-old Cincinnati man, Cleland Higgins, has been charged with first-degree manslaughter in the fatal shooting Sunday of Rogers Hubbard, 48, of the Queen City.

Police said that Hubbard was shot as the climax of an argument between two groups of men over who was blocking a sidewalk.

Nudists Cover Food

BERNALILLO, N. M. (AP) — A recent Yucca Naturist Club newsletter in announcing a social event urged "everyone to bring a covered dish." The nudist organization is located north of Albuquerque.

'Save The Queen' Party Fails To Convince Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a great "Save the Delta Queen" party, but the powerful Rep. Edward A. Garmatz, D-Md., apparently wasn't convinced the old sternwheeler should be exempted from new government safety regulations.

Senators trying to save the old riverboat passed out buttons and bumper stickers Tuesday to some 20 congressmen attending the party, while directing most of their attention to Garmatz.

But Garmatz, chairman of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, said he was reluctant to take any action counter to the government's position—that the Delta Queen is unsafe.

On Nov. 1 the luxury vessel runs afloat of the Safety at Sea Law requiring boats carrying overnight passengers to have a steel superstructure.

The Delta Queen's superstructure is made of wood. The senators, Marlow Cook of Kentucky, Howard Baker Jr. of Tennessee and William B. Saxbe of Ohio, want to exempt the Delta Queen from the law to keep it running as a pleasure craft on the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers.

Bill Muster, president of Greenlines Steamers Inc., which owns the boat, and his congressional backers say the Queen is as safe as any boat.

State Income Tax Hit By Cities Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A state income tax could "seriously jeopardize" the ability of cities to levy or increase their own income taxes, the Ohio Municipal League's executive director said Tuesday.

John P. Coleman told the Ohio Democratic Platform Finance committee that enactment of a state income tax could lead to petitions to repeal or at least reduce existing municipal income taxes, which many cities depend upon for more than half of their total revenue.

The oldest legal tender coins in circulation are silver half-crowns, shillings and sixpences of the reign of George III dated 1816.

in the nation. Muster said the company is putting fireproof paint throughout the boat and noted she has a sprinkler system and—in case of fire—can be put to shore quickly.

But Garmatz, whose committee support is crucial, apparently was unconvinced.

Now the senators are working at putting the needed exemption into a merchant marine bill.

Final Campus Hearing Set By Probers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A legislative subcommittee's final campus hearing on student disorders was being held today at Ohio State University.

The open session followed private meetings Tuesday with university administrators, faculty and students and city and county officials.

Hearings at all 12 state universities resulted from campus disturbances last spring and are designed to determine if new legislation is needed before the next school term begins.

Rep. Robert E. Levitt, R-91, Canton, chairman of the Select Joint Committee on Campus Disorders, said Tuesday a decision will be made early next month on whether to call a special session of the General Assembly to deal with college uprisings.

Levitt said the full committee of 15 legislators will meet at the Statehouse in Columbus Aug. 11-12 to hear final public testimony. Then the committee will analyze all proposals for possible legislative action.

"If the proposals are important, we will have the governor call a special session," he said. House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, R-4, Bowling Green, said "basic campus problems are not legislative matters."

Kurfess, who heads the subcommittee holding hearings at Ohio State, said the legislature cannot solve the discord on campus but can provide tools and directions for campuses.

Complete Line Of Aircraft Made By U.S. Needed, Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless the United States develops a complete family of airplanes — including the supersonic transport — European manufacturers will corner the market for airliners, a federal official declared.

"The airlines abroad will buy closer to home," William M. Magruder, chief of SST development for the Department of Transportation, said at a news conference Tuesday.

The United States already builds 85 per cent of the world's airplanes, he said, but it is in the SST field that the United States is unequalled—a field in which between $22 billion and $50 billion is at stake.

"Other countries already have our engine technology and can build just as good subsonic swept-wing jets as we can," Magruder said. But, he said, this country must produce the complete line — long-range SSTs, big subsonic planes, medium-range and short-range aircraft, medium-size airliners and small ones — if the United States is to retain its share of the foreign market.

Magruder said a newly released report on environmental problems relating to the SST, prepared by leading scientists during a month-long conference at Williams College, confirmed earlier findings by experts of the Transportation Department's SST office.

Magruder said that, contrary to news accounts, the study group made no recommendation that the SST program be slowed or abandoned.

It said, as Magruder's own environmental advisers had said a few months earlier, that uncertainties as to environmental effects must be resolved before large-scale production of the SST gets under way.

Magruder said his SST environmental advisory council studied the scientists' findings and other data over the weekend and came up with these conclusions:

—Projected SST operations are unlikely to cause significant climatic changes, but there are uncertainties as to photochemistry, circulation response and natural variability of stratospheric properties.

—A significant decrease in ozone is unlikely. A change in ozone at SST flight levels will not result in ultraviolet radiation hazard at the earth's surface.

—There will be a smaller amount of contrail production from SSTs than there is from subsonic jets.

—Significant changes in temperature at the earth's surface are unlikely.
—The sulfur content of existing aircraft fuels probably would have no effect on surface temperatures.
—Manufacturers have the technical capability to reduce sulfur concentrations in aviation fuel by significant amounts, although the need to do so has not been apparent.

Lore Talks To Jury About Loans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James B. Lore apparently renege on an earlier promise to refuse to answer questions and spent all day Tuesday testifying before a special grand jury investigating the state loans scandal.

Lore, president of LCM Corp. and former investment officer for the State Employees Retirement System, was scheduled to return to the stand today.

Testimony was secret, but Lore presumably discussed the relations of his firm with Crofters, Inc. and some $28 million in SERS loans arranged by Crofters.

State Auditor Roger Cloud, in an audit earlier this year, accused Lore of conflict of interest.

Cloud also had reported that Lore, after giving auditors information under oath, said if subpoenaed he would refuse to answer questions.

Gerald A. Donahue, secretary-treasurer of Crofters, had been scheduled to testify Tuesday, but because of the length of Lore's testimony was told he would be rescheduled next week.

Also subpoenaed to appear before the jury today were Harry A. Groban and Sidney D. Griffith, two other Crofters officials.

Actress Seeking Child Custody

ROME (AP) — Belgian-born actress Catherine Spaak has asked a Rome court to give her custody of the 7-year-old daughter born to her and Italian dressmaker Roberto Capucci. Their marriage failed six years ago.

The girl, Sabrina, has been living with Capucci's mother, Ida Capogrossi. Miss Spaak claimed Mrs. Capogrossi was too old to adequately provide for Sabrina.

The court said Tuesday it would consider the request next month.

Mrs. Capogrossi's age was not given.

Ohio Sailor Dies In Nevada Crash

SEARCHLIGHT, Nev. (AP) — Navy Lt. (j.g.) Henry Joseph McGrevey, 25, of Newark, Ohio, was one of 10 navy men killed when lightning apparently struck their patrol plane and sent it crashing onto a ridge near here.

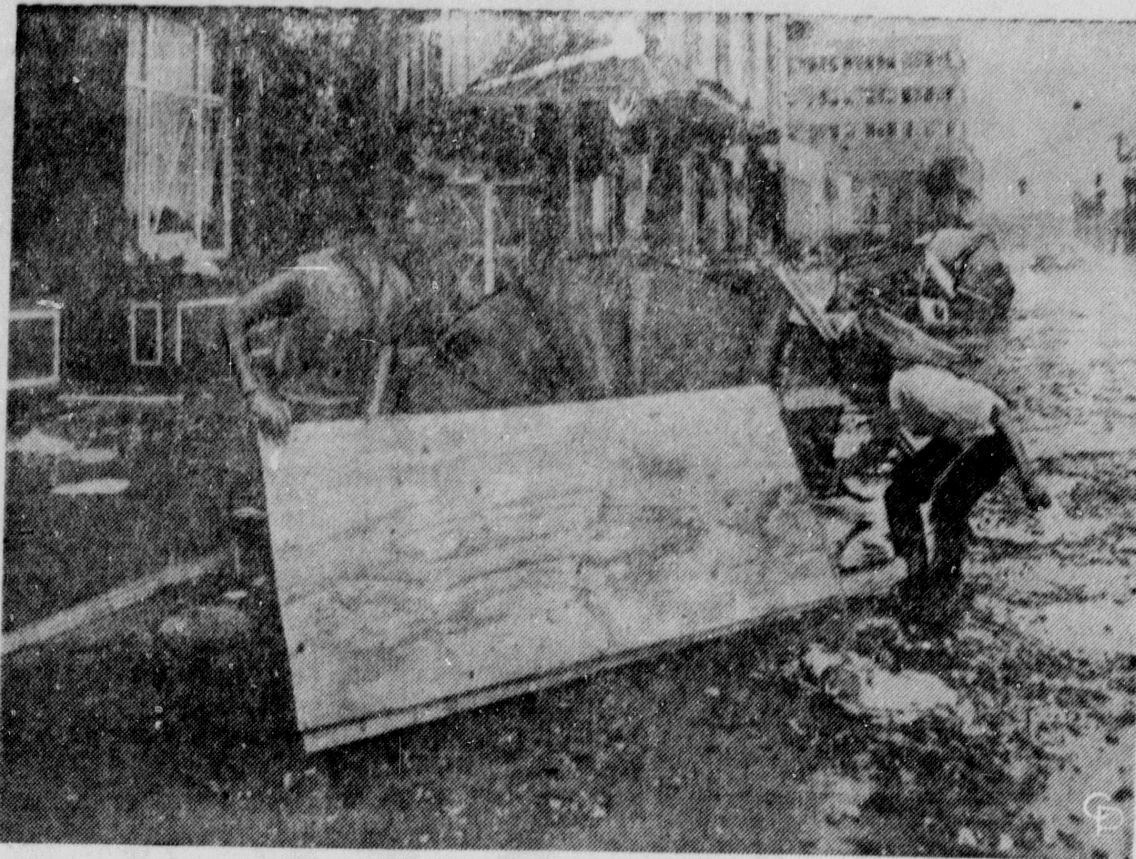

The plane was flying from Nellis Air Force Base near Las Vegas to North Island Naval Air Station at San Diego, Calif.

Bridle Path In City Target Of Complaints

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The bridle path along tree-lined Southern Parkway here has been a sore spot with residents for more than 20 years in the Kentucky Derby city.

Those opposing the more than mile-long path that connects with paths in the 740-acre Iroquois Park have lodged complaints of flies, dust, manure and property damage.

The complainants say the riders have enjoyed the bridle path for some 70 years and argue that now it's time to see what it's like without the animals.

KSU Grand Jury Set Aug. 25

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If preparations go smoothly, a special grand jury investigation of the spring disturbances and slaying of four students at Kent State University will begin Aug. 25.

Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown announced the date after returning Tuesday from a conference in Ravenna with Portage County Common Pleas Judge Edwin Jones and Prosecutor Ronald Kane.

However, Brown cautioned that the date is "strictly tentative, depending on how the mechanics work out."

It was decided at the meeting, Brown said, to impanel the jury in a courtroom because no jury rooms are adequate. Brown's staff of eight probably will be located in courthouse offices or the adjoining city building, he said.

Record-Herald Wednesday, Aug. 5, 1970 11

Although he received a pledge of cooperation from Kane, Brown indicated he would depend primarily on his own staff to present evidence to the grand jury and handle prosecutions if indictments are returned.

He thus dispelled concern expressed earlier by Kane that the state would handle only the probe and leave him with the prosecutions.

Brown said the law under which Gov. James A. Rhodes ordered him into the case specified that he should "investigate and or prosecute." He said the state would bear the costs of both efforts.

Brown said he had received assurance that all investigative reports on the May 4 disorders would be made available to the jury.

They include reports made by the FBI, Ohio Highway Patrol and Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, an arm of the attorney general's office.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said in Washington Tuesday that the FBI report called the shootings unjustified and named six Ohio National Guardsmen who could be charged criminally in the shootings.

Brown said that on the basis of evidence available to him he would be "surprised" if any Guardsmen are indicted.

The American Civil Liberties Union expressed concern Tuesday that the grand jury probe would be used "merely to confirm" Brown's "pre-formed opinions."

State ACLU executive director Benson Wolman said in an interview an investigation conducted by the ACLU raised doubts that riot conditions prevailed on the campus before the shootings.

And even if there was a riot, Wolman added, it would not be grounds for granting National Guardsmen immunity from prosecution.

The biggest vegetable market in the world, London's Covent Garden is scheduled to be moved. By 1973 it is supposed to be transplanted to the region of Nine Elms on the south bank of the River Thames. After 300 years in the heart of London and despite an official charter to sell produce there "for ever," Covent Garden apparently is being squeezed out by urban congestion.

Urge 'Back To Country' Movement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A sweeping change in America's life style—a proposal that millions abandon the nation's blighted cities and move to the fresh air of the countryside—was offered here Wednesday as a solution to rural poverty and urban chaos.

It came from Claude W. Gifford, editorial page director of Farm Journal Magazine, Philadelphia, Pa., in an address prepared for the American Institute of Cooperation.

The AIC, holding its annual meeting here, is a non-profit educational institution which focuses on agribusiness affairs and is supported by 3,000 farmer cooperatives from coast to coast.

Rural America, said Gifford, is a woman with a 33-50 - 60 figure.

She has 33 per cent of the nation's people, 50 per cent of the nation's poverty and 60 per cent of the nation's poor housing, said Gifford.

"Now with a shape like that," he mused, "no wonder rural America is suffering from neglect."

Turning to the nation's cities,

Gifford noted that 66 per cent of the country's population is "stuffed into an area representing only 3 per cent of the nation's land."

"This kind of compaction of the human population has led to four plagues of modern cities—the plagues of pollution, blighted housing, crime and transportation paralysis," he said.

And in 30 years, Gifford added, "we will likely have 100 million more people to accommodate . . . one additional person for every two we have now."

The answer Gifford told his audience "is to spread out economic activity and our future population growth into the countryside areas—into 98 per cent of the land where only 30 per cent of the people now live."

"Do you know," he asked, "that we (rural areas) have fostered a net outmigration of 25 million people from rural areas since World War II. Sent them to the cities. This is one of the greatest migrations of people in all recorded history."

Specifically, Gifford urged establishing a national growth policy sanctioned by Congress which would declare "it is our national intent to spread out industries and additional population growth."

He also suggested transportation improvements to make it easier to live in rural communities and commute to jobs; tax incentives for industry; the creation of the Rural Development Credit Bank; stepped up job training in rural areas to meet the needs of incoming industry; improved rural health services and rural housing development programs.

'Drug Abuse' Topic For Rotary Club

A filmed lecture on drug abuse by a woman who had been an addict for 24 years, 17 of which she had spent in jails and institutions, impressed Rotarians with the serious potential of the problem here.

The film, entitled "The Trip Back," was shown at the club's luncheon meeting in the Country Club Tuesday by Sgt. Luther Anderson of the Washington C. H. Police Department. Sgt. Anderson, a member of the police force here since 1965, recently attended a seminar on drugs in Columbus.

The film showed the reformed addict telling of her experiences to an audience of teenagers in New York City. She described the use of drugs as "stupid."

In answering questions, Sgt. Anderson said there have been reports of drug abuse in this community and commented that "presumably narcotics are available here."

He said special efforts are being made by law enforcement officers to apprehend anyone bringing drugs into the city or county.

TO DISCOURAGE the use of drugs here, Sgt. Anderson said an educational program has been developed and is now being carried out. The filmed lecture, which had just been shown, he said, is a part of this program, which is beamed particularly toward young people.

Andre Metais, club program chairman, arranged for the showing of the film and introduced Sgt. Anderson.

President John S. Bath, announced there was 100 per cent attendance at the club's meeting last week.

David Ogan said the football outlook for the Washington C. H. Blue Lions and Miami Trace Panthers will be presented at the meeting next Tuesday.

William Yardley was the guest of W. P. Noble and Dr. Walter Felson, of Greenfield, was the only visiting Rotarian.

Two Attorneys In New Quarters

Attorneys Richard P. Rankin and Rollo M. Marchant are now occupying a modern eight-room suite in a reconverted residential property at 226 E. Market St.

The first floor includes a lobby, Rankin's office, a secretary's office and a file room. Marchant, who also serves as Fayette County prosecuting attorney, has an office on the second floor, which also houses a law library and additional office space.

The two attorneys maintained offices at the rear of 138 E. Court St. for a number of years.

Property Damage Crashes Reported

Damage was estimated at more than $1,480 to four cars involved in three traffic accidents investigated in the city-county area Tuesday. No one was injured, and no citations were issued.

Most of the damage came in a single-car crash at 3:35 p.m. on Washington-Waterloo Road, 5.3 miles east of Washington C. H. A 1968 model car driven by Dennis E. Smith, 19, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, received damage estimated at $1,400.

Sheriff's deputies said Smith, driving west, topped a hill and saw another car turn left into a private drive. He applied his brakes and skidded out of control. The vehicle went off the left side of the highway and damaged six rods of fence owned by Paul G. Pope, Rt. 5, Washington C. H.

City police investigated a hit-skip accident at 4:45 p.m. which occurred on Court Street near Fayette Street. A car parked by Mrs. Robert L. Huff, 1120 Nelson Pl., was struck. Damage was estimated at $30.

A backing mishap occurred at 6 p.m. in the Redman Industries parking lot at the Industrial Park. Richard E. Grooms, 26, Rt. 3, Washington C. H., backed his 1967 model and struck a parked car owned by Johnny E. Huebner, 25, of Hillsboro. Damage was minor to both vehicles.

Ohio Readies School Course About Drugs

By LARRY HEINZLERING
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Kids don't listen to the doctors when they post the figures on how many drug addicts are dying or being committed to mental institutions. It upsets their brain. Some may never come out."

The frustrated Cleveland narcotics agent urges: "Kids should get a foundation on what drugs are all about in the fourth grade. Kids have got to be warned about drugs these days. You have to educate them all the way down the line."

Ohio will take the first step in that direction this fall. For the past year, experimental programs in drug education have been undertaken at select schools in Dayton and Lima under the direction of the Educational Research Council based in Cleveland.

Dayton concentrated on drugs while Lima put emphasis on alcohol and tobacco.

This fall the results of these experiments will be combined and made available to junior high schools throughout the state for adoption in local curricula.

To implement the state-wide drug prevention program, Ohio created a Division of Drug Education in June under the Department of Education funded by a $137,000 annual grant from the U. S. Office of Education.

No state funds are involved. "We're not trying to moralize," said Woodrow Zinser, former superintendent of Youngstown schools, who is directing the program. "We're not trying to frighten students, but we're trying to show there are better alternatives in meeting life's frustrations and problems than the chemical 'cop out'." Zinser says the three-pronged attack on drug abuse will include instructing youngsters about the behavioral causes of drug abuse, teacher training in drug education and guidelines to assist school personnel in combating drug abuse. "In addition to this effort," said Dr. Franklin Walter, assistant superintendent of public instruction, regional conferences will be held throughout Ohio aimed at coordinating existing drug efforts. Private efforts are now underway in many of Ohio's cities. Zinser says the workshops for teachers, administrators and health educators will be held to "learn more about the legal aspects of drugs, the pharmacology of drugs, more about youth and the drug culture." He said "We don't know the scope or the depth of the problem. We are only aware of the rapid acceleration in the use of drugs — among high school students in particular." Recognizing that drug use is a "people problem," the program will emphasize "why people abuse drugs and how abuse behaviour can be prevented or changed if it has started." In explaining the program, the Educational Research Council notes: "In a high proportion of cases of drug abuse the person is plagued by some underlying difficulty and he turns to drugs in an attempt to forget the difficulty. . . After the taking of the drug the problem still remains. In fact, if the drug is a dangerous one, the problem may be made more difficult." The program encourages the student to establish a purpose for his life and provides practice in examining alternatives to drug use in meeting life's problems in accordance with that purpose. The EPC says it "does not teach middle class values, 'affluent society' values or other 'class' or 'group' values. It attempts to teach the individual a method by which he can think his way through the daily situations that arise." Teacher's manuals and pupil workbook materials will be ready for distribution to school by Sept. 1. A section for the elementary school level will be ready by the fall of 1971 and a program for senior high schools is expected to be ready by January, 1971.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, Aug. 5, the 217th day of 1970. There are 148 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1963, the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain agreed that they would not carry out nuclear tests in the atmosphere, in space or under water.
On this date: In 1858, the first transatlantic cable was completed.
In 1861, the U.S. government levied its first income tax.
In 1884, the cornerstone of the Statue of Liberty was laid.
In 1914, at the beginning of World War I, Austria-Hungary declared war on Russia.
In 1949, some 6,000 persons were killed in an earthquake in Ecuador.
In 1953, the U.N. Command in Korea began an exchange of prisoners with North Korea and Communist China.
Ten years ago: The United Nations called off plans to send troops to keep peace in the Congo's Katanga Province.
Five years ago: There was a government crisis in Greece after the ouster of Premier Andreas Papandreu.
One year ago: Three American prisoners of war arrived by plane in Laos after being freed by North Vietnam.

Chicago Murder Record Reflects Violence

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago police department homicide unit reports the city is heading for an all-time record of more than 900 murders this year.
"We're now 92 murders ahead of this time last year," said Cmdr. John T. Cartan Jr. in predicting the highest yearly murder toll in the city's history in 1970. There were 716 murders in Chicago in 1969.
Cartan, 58, blamed "changing times" and a national trend to more violence for the sharp increase.

FENCE HIGH NOW

Farmer Harry H. Hopkins, who lives a mile south of Sabina on Darbyshire Road, says his field of soy beans stands fence high. These beans are Shelby Sage beans planted May 18 on the Golden Acres Farm. Darrell Woodruff of Sabina tends them. "This years crop looks exceptionally good with very few weeds," he adds.

Hopkins Williams Jr. Memorial Park, son, Rick all of Hillsboro, Mr. Burlington, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Custis Jr. The next reunion will be the and Mrs. Earl Atley, Rt. 2, Harold Baker of New Vienna, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Custis, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Custis, Ted and Judy, all of Sabina; Jeff Custis, Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Custis, Mrs. Verne Custis, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Custis and children; Tammie and Tim, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Purtee and children Jana, Jennifer and Jeff, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Willison, Mrs. Carl Willison also of Wilmington, and Mrs. Alice Marrie Burt, of Michigan.

WOMEN PLAN SALE

Sabina Women of the Moose will hold a bake sale Saturday, starting at 9 a.m., as a benefit for the Community Action Council. Persons were asked to donate. A report was given on a meeting with the CAC by Mrs. Edward Wilson and Mrs. Jane Wyatt at the Monday night meeting. Mrs. Wayne Howard, senior regent, presided. A letter from Louise Long, at Moosehart, thanking the chapter for membership gain was read. All members are asked to send get-well cards to Mrs. Elbie Adams Box 65, Wilmington, Mrs. Russell Wilson, W. Washington St., Sabina, and Mrs. Leslie Campbell, 75 Newham St., Wilmington.

There is to be enrollment at the next meeting August 10.

Others present Monday were Mrs. Sarah Howard, Mrs. Marvin Daugherty, Mrs. Dana Roberts, Mrs. Otto Templin, Mrs. Marshall Barber, Mrs. Robert Page, Mrs. Carl Hughes and Mrs. Loretta Lynch.

EAST CLINTON FFA

The summer meeting of the East Clinton Farmers of America was held Wednesday night in the high school vocational agriculture room. There were 23 members present.

Dan Custis reported that the football and basketball programs are almost sold.

It was announced that Rolfe's Field Day would be Aug. 4 and 5 this year, and East Clinton will be furnishing the wagons to ride on.

Adrian Roberts announced that all Fair entries should be in place by Monday, Aug. 10, at noon. At 1 p.m. the teams that will be judging livestock should be ready to start their contests.

Trophies won by the boys at the state judging contest were presented to David Roehm, second place winner in farm equipment and third high individual on the first place agronomy team; Mark Allen, first high individual on the first place agronomy team, and Marvin Fawley, second high individual, on the first place agronomy team.

Three-Church Unity Seen As Possibility

LONDON (AP) — The Church of England's Society of the Holy Cross has published an open letter calling for a joint Anglican-Roman Catholic-Methodist commission to explore the possibility of unity in doctrine, government and worship. The Rev. Alfred Simmons, Master of the Society, says that in view of the remarkable change in the official attitude of Rome towards churches separated from her, the time has arrived for negotiations to be opened on a wider scale.

Jute Replaces Hemp

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Clark County originally was one of the 10 Bluegrass counties in Kentucky which produced more than 20 per cent of America's hemp in the late 1880's.

Hemp, the same plant which produces marijuana, prized for its hallucinogenic effects by many of today's younger generation, was the state's largest cash crop until 1915, with the market was lost to imported, tariff-free jute.

Large amounts of the plant still grow wild in the Bluegrass.

An estimated 460 million persons speak Northern Chinese or Mandarin.

Big Business Eyes Role In Society

By JACK SHOLL
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the bigger questions corporations are asking themselves these days is what responsibility does big business have to society.

The question has taken on a sense of urgency as students, consumers, employees, shareholders and government agencies have increased their demands on business to play a greater role in curing society's ills and improving the quality of the environment.

It is not surprising, then, to find Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., and one of the nation's leading industrialists, pondering the question in a new book, "The Human Environment and Business." A collection of three speeches he delivered last year at Vanderbilt, Harvard and Yale universities, it was published Tuesday.

For Ford, the times are revolutionary. And the question is not simply whether business has done enough to improve the quality of society. Rather, it is whether business will be able to survive the challenges the next several decades will impose on it without losing its traditional freedom to make a profit.

"As employees, people are wondering if they have given up too much of their time, their freedom and their dignity for the sake of the paycheck," he writes.

"As consumers, people are realizing that affluence can be a burden. Their cars and appliances break down, their plumbing leaks, their lawns get weedy, and getting things fixed is troublesome, expensive or even impossible.

"As citizens, people can see that their material possessions have been purchased at a high cost in environmental pollution — dirty air, dirty water, ugly landscape.

"Modern industrial society is based on the assumption that it is both possible and desirable to go on forever providing more and more goods for more and more people. Today, that assumption is being seriously challenged.

In Ford's opinion, corporations would better serve society if their management would stop thinking of social service and profit as separate and competing aims. In other words, new public values should be viewed as opportunities to make a profit by serving new demands.

And when the market place can't automatically translate public needs to market demand, he says, government intervention should be looked upon as a necessary function.

In Ford's view, the battle business has to fight over the succeeding decades will be won by innovation, not complacent administration.

"The successful companies will be managed by men who regard themselves as entrepreneurs, and not merely as good administrators," he writes. "These are the companies that will earn the highest profits for their stockholders by discharging their highest responsibilities to the society."

Millionaire Dressmaker Needles World

By NADEANE WALKER
LONDON (AP) — Hardy Amies, dressmaker turned tailor turned millionaire, needles the world with words but uses machines to sew clothes.

He makes more money that way.

"It is impossible to become rich from dealing in anything made almost entirely by hand," the 60-year-old designer to Queen Elizabeth II said. "It is the manufacturers of machine-made clothes who prosper today."

And making money is an Amies hobby. He began designing women's one-of-a-kind gowns 36 years ago. After a good, hard look at the economics of trade, he turned to ready-to-wear or boutique collections for women, and then, in the 50's, he charged into the men's wear field.

"MY FIRM," he said in an interview, "has made an awful lot of money. More than 50 per cent of the business belongs to me and I fought like a wildcat to get that."

"I want to retire gracefully and elegantly. An old, unsuccessful dressmaker is a very unattractive thought. But, I have not cashed in enough yet."

But it isn't really the money, he stoutly avers. "I am preoccupied with making a success rather than making money." He moved immaculately clad shoulders in an elegant emphasis.

"After working 30 years at the damn thing I am anxious, though not desperately so, to make a success. But, success can only be measured by money."

The fact that designer Amies measures up well to his own yard-stick of success may well rest with his own salesmanship of his mastery of the art of making a suit.

OF HIS first collections for Lachasse in 1934, Amies said: "My designs were not very exciting. I had precious little original to say."

But, two years later, "I realized that if you lower the waist (of a suit jacket) you have a longer line from under the armhole to the waist. This gives you more room to move when in action, and makes the jacket lie almost peacefully on its own when you are still."

Another year later American buyers discovered that his collection for the coronation of King George VI was cheaper than Paris originals. "And from that season," said Amies gleefully, "I have never stopped selling clothes to America."

That year he made his first trip to the United States and sold more than 8,000 pounds ($19,200) from his next collection.

"I UNDERSTAND the poetry of trade just as I understand the grain of a material," Amies said.

While the United States is probably his most important area, Amies, after all, carries the royal warrant as dressmaker to Britain's queen — a prestige label granted in 1955, five years after he began sewing gowns for the then Princess Elizabeth.

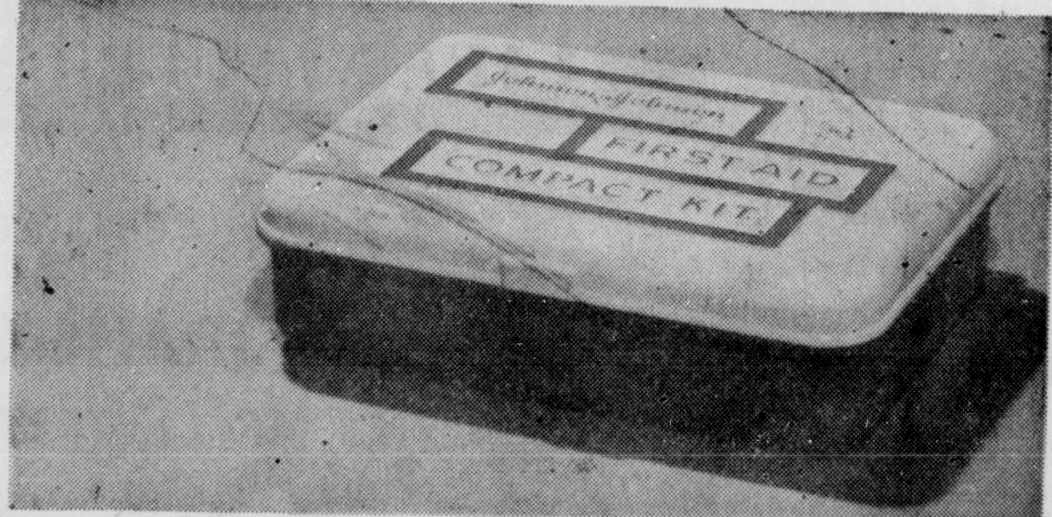

Critics of the Queen's taste get short shrift from the lashing tongue of designer Amies. "They have no idea what she expects from her clothes. I think the Queen has no desire to be on a best-dressed list. That's a full-time job and she has another one."

When he isn't making money Amies lives in a "smallish" London house with four bedrooms, three bathrooms, 36 suits, 24 pairs of shoes, a cook and a butler. He dismisses this as "quite grand, I suppose."

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—By ESTRELLITA

For Tomorrow

MAINTAIN a realistic attitude and good judgment in all situations. If action on a certain project seems to be required, get busy. If intuition tells you to "bide your time," have patience. The proper approach—and timing—will be a vital factor in the success of job and/or financial dealings.

For The Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, your outlook for the next year is very promising indeed. Occupational advancement and monetary gains are indicated and, with the exception of a brief period toward the middle of this month, personal relationship will be under most beneficent aspects. Where job interests are concerned, you will, on Sept. 1, enter a splendid 3-month cycle in which your spirit of enterprise should be at a peak and where, according to the stars, the time will have come for pursuing your most ambitious goals—especially those of long-range value. Gains made during this period should be most gratifying and should spark still further successes during January, March and June. Most propitious periods for increasing financial assets: The last three months of 1970, next March, May and June.

Well-wishers in job, social and family circles will be of assistance in furthering your interests during the next 12 months and there is every indication that by the time your next birthday has rolled around, you will find both personal and material interests in a very sound position. Most auspicious periods for romance: The balance of this month, October, late December, next March, May and June; for travel and enlivening social activities: The next two weeks, September, February, May and June.

A child born on this day will be extremely ambitious and unusually versatile; could succeed in the business world or in the arts—especially in literature, painting or the theater.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Shiloh Ranch has had four owners in nine years, but that doesn't mean the grazing is poor or the water had on the Medicine Bow spread. It is part of a general face-lifting designed to broaden the appeal of "The Virginian."

Lee J. Cobb, who played the first owner, quit when his contract expired and was succeeded by Charles Bickford. John McIntire became owner number 3 when Bickford was taken ill. Now, as part of a general reorganization of the 90-minute series, NBC will have Stewart Granger as the fourth ranch owner for the family-style Western which has been renamed "The Men from Shiloh."

Granger, a breezy, informal man, became an American favorite 20 years ago in his first Hollywood film, "King Solomon's Mines," but in recent years he has lived in Geneva and London.

"I wrote a script for a film and brought it to Hollywood myself," he said during rehearsals this week. "It was a nice old-fashioned sexy story with lots of action. But it didn't have any drugs, naked women, student riots or racial problems. Obviously it would have absolutely no appeal to audiences between 15 and 22—who seem to be the only ones producers believe attend motion pictures these days."

"Anyway, they called and asked me how I'd like to spend 20 weeks making Westerns. I said I would if I could play my character as an Englishman. So here I am, and I must say it is not the most amusing thing in the world trying to turn out one film a week."

"I'm in all of the shows — I have some stories of my own, of course—but I function as the cement that keeps the series together."

Vacation Spent Inside Hospital

HONOLULU (AP) — Irene Lamb of Methuen, N.J., finally made it to Hawaii after scrambling for two years. But she had to spend her entire vacation in a hospital room.

"I didn't get to see anything," Mrs. Lamb said, "except these four walls and the airport."

Mrs. Lamb, 51, stepped off a plane two weeks ago, had a flower lei placed about her neck and was walking to a tour bus when she tripped on a curb and broke her hip.

A travel agent said she will get a partial rebate on her $778 package tour for unused meals and sightseeing, but Mrs. Lamb added, "I don't even want to hear about the hospital bill."

Trailer Curb Plan OK'd At Bloomingburg

BLOOMINGBURG — An ordinance prohibiting the parking of house trailers and mobile homes in the village, except in a licensed trailer park, was passed by Council Tuesday night.

The ordinance, which does not apply to those now in place, provides for a minimum fine of $100 for the first violation, plus $50 a day until house trailer or mobile home is moved.

The ordinance, which was passed as an emergency measure, goes into effect immediately. It was pointed out that, under the ordinance, trailers and mobile homes cannot be replaced if they become uninhabitable or are removed and that if they are sold they must be removed. The ordinance replaces a more flexible one passed in 1967.

Councilman James Green and Gordon Cowdery, representing the Bloomingburg Lions Club which supervises the community park, asked Council to have the park moved regularly. Council agreed.

They also suggested that the Town Hall, in which the club meets, be required and offered to share the expense. Council deferred action until after a cost estimate is made to determine whether the village has the money for the job.

Two building permits were approved. One was for construction of a barn by Councilman Green on his property on Lincoln Street and the other was for construction of a "modular" home by Charles Hunt Jr. on Lincoln Street.

A resolution naming Mrs. Charles Cunningham as Bloomingburg's representative on the Fayette County Regional Planning Commission was adopted. Mrs. Cunningham is a member of the Bloomingburg Planning Commission.

Routine bills totaling $1,157.87 were approved.

Good Hope Grange Conducts Meeting

GOOD HOPE — The Good Hope Grange voted to contribute $5 to the State Grange Volunteer Service Council's fund to take State Hospital patients to the State Fair.

The action was taken at the meeting Tuesday night conducted by Master Howard Barney.

Officers for next year will be elected at the September meeting.

The charter was draped in memory of W. J. Hilty and National Grange Master Herschel D. Newsom. Mrs. Eugene Thompson, lecturer, presented readings.

Mr. and Mrs. William White served peach pie and ice cream following adjournment. Charles E. Morgan volunteered to serve refreshments at the September meeting.

The "Little Willie" was said to be the prototype of all tanks. It was tested in England in 1915 and went into action at the battle of flours in 1916.

Teacher Strikes

said there undoubtedly will be more.

Converse and James E. Mundy, AFT director of organization, said among their locals they could end up with strikes in Illinois, New Haven and West Haven in Connecticut, Philadelphia and Springfield, Mass.

Converse added that there is a "grave possibility of trouble in Washington, D.C., and a distinct possibility of it in San Francisco."

Since AFT has negotiated multi-year contracts there is little likelihood of labor trouble in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Kansas City or Pittsburgh schools, he said.

Both unions look for considerable activity in the northeast. In the Midwest, Michigan has had a lot of strikes and Chanin said "we'll have fun and games in Michigan" again. Mundy agreed.

"There's a lot of grumbling in California," Chanin said, mainly over a state law which prohibits union teacher contracts.

Although last year's 180 strikes is small in relation to the number of school districts in the country—more than 21,000—the increased activity nonetheless reflects a changing attitude of the teaching profession in general toward unionism.

For years the NEA refused to identify a strike as a strike. Instead, it referred to walkouts as professional holidays, a recess or a withdrawal of services. This is no longer true, and this year the NEA voted 20 per cent of its $25.5 million budget for field staff representatives who, NEA officials say, will be skilled in organizational bargaining for teachers.

Chanin summed up the new attitude this way: "Speeches I make now would have got me fired 10 years ago."

Chanin said there are many reasons for the changing view: a growing desire to have the right to bargain, a desire to have something to say about their future and a right to be involved in school planning.

Teachers, looking at their own economic plight, also see other unions "outstripping them" in financial gains, he added.

Another element, he said, is the increasing number of male teachers. Just after World War II almost 95 per cent of the elementary and secondary teachers were women, Chanin said, and of this group 75 per cent were teaching to earn secondary income. Today, he continued, nearly 40 per cent of the teachers are male and their income is basic to the family.

Still another factor, Chanin said, is that teachers now see "social protest as acceptable" to all walks of life—professional as well as nonprofessional.

Asked to list the main causes of teacher walkouts, AFT's Mundy said, in the order of importance:

Teaching conditions—size of class, lack of supplies, lack of rapport with administration, lack of proper grievance procedure.

Claim Danger In Nerve Gas Plan Minimal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen investigating Army plans to dump deadly nerve gas into the Atlantic Ocean have been told the project poses less danger than the everyday transportation of commercial chemicals.

"I think we'd better get rid of this stuff," U.S. Surgeon General Jesse L. Steinfeld told a House Merchant Marine subcommittee Tuesday after being urged to delay the project.

"In the absence of any reasonable alternative proposal for disposal, it is certainly in the interest of public health and safety to expedite this disposal action," Steinfeld said.

Transportation of the 15,540 gas-filled rockets "is less hazardous than that occurring daily in similar mass movements of chlorine, phosgene, anhydrous ammonia or liquefied petroleum gas," he added.

The Army contends chances for catastrophe are virtually nil in its plan to ship the gas by rail next week from the Lexington-Blue Grass Depot near Richmond, Ky., and another depot at Anniston, Ala., to Sunny Point, N.C.

Plans call for the 413 steel-jacketed concrete coffins to be loaded aboard a ship at Sunny Point and hauled 200 miles off the Florida coast where the vessel will be scuttled.

In testimony Tuesday, Chairman Alton Lennon, D-N.C., Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., Rep. Joseph E. Karth, D-Minn., and Rep. Charles Raper Jonas, R-N.C., reiterated questions concerning the danger of one of the coffins eventually decomposing in their ocean burial ground and the deadly nerve gas escaping to contaminate the ocean environment.

"I don't see how the gases could travel through 16,000 feet of salt water without being neutralized," said Charles Meacham, commissioner of the Sport Fisheries and Wildlife Service in the Interior Department.

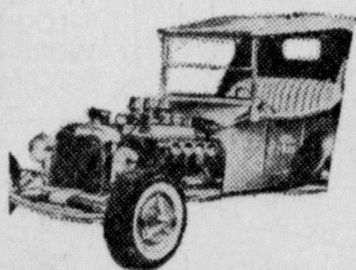

Identified By Legs

HARODSBURG, Ky. (AP) — Hollie Chilton, a 100-year-old Mercer Countian, has his own ideas about mini-skirts.

"Aren't all those short dresses the women wear nowadays terrible?" he says. "It's got so I never see a woman's face any more, but I know all the women in my neighborhood by their legs!"

Prof Blasts Cereal Industry 'Propaganda' As Harmful

WASHINGTON (AP) — A professor of nutrition accused the cereal industry today of brainwashing the American public with a Communist-like propaganda campaign aimed directly at children.

"In a country where there is a considerable amount of malnutrition among the poor and where rates of infant mortality are disgracefully high this advertising may be indirectly contributing to ill health and mortality," declared Dr. Michael C. Latham, a physician and international professor of nutrition at Cornell University.

Latham commented in testimony prepared for a third session of the Senate consumer subcommittee's inquiry into the nutritional value of dry breakfast cereals.

The subcommittee, chaired by Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, began its inquiry last week with testimony by citizen-lobbyist Robert Choate that most of the heavily advertised breakfast cereals are no more nutritional than hard liquor.

The industry, in a massive counterattack Tuesday, accused Choate of basing his findings on inadequate, confusing and incomplete information.

Five industry spokesmen told the subcommittee that Choate did not consider the impact of adding milk to cereal, which they said produced a high-quality protein. They also said cereals should not be eaten alone but with other things like juice and toast.

And they said overloading cereals with vitamins and nutrients could cause a dangerous imbalance in some human systems.

"My main thesis," Latham said, "is that the consumer has been led to believe that ordinary dry breakfast cereals have nutritive value superior to common foods such as bread, hominy grits, rice, spaghetti, baked beans, potatoes, pizza etc. This is not true . . ."

Latham said the cereal makers probably would deny ever claiming their products are nutritionally superior to these foods.

"Perhaps they have not claimed this in so many words, but they have implied it in their advertising," he said.

"Ask any 8-year-old on your block," he went on, "or almost any suburban housewife, and you will be told that breakfast cereals are better nutritionally than bread or rice or baked beans."

"These consumers did not get this idea from their health education classes, or nutrition textbooks or from news articles."

They got it from the skillful advertising of the breakfast cereal manufacturers," Latham declared.

TV Chiefs Rap Bid By Solons

Prime Time Bill Said Unnecessary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Television network chiefs urged Congress today to quit thinking about getting into the newscasting business and leave the job to the professionals.

In testimony for the Senate Communications Committee, CBS president Frank Stanton and NBC president Julian Goodman opposed a bill by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to require broadcasters to give prime time to the Senate, House and judiciary.

They said broadcast newsmen present a fair, balanced news report, and described Fulbright's proposal as "dangerously simplistic," unnecessary and possibly an infringement upon a free press.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, however, backed Fulbright by saying television distorts complicated national issues and that Congress should have a chance from time to time to address itself directly to the public as the president now does by custom.

"The people have a right to be informed of the prevailing congressional attitude on the significant national issues," Muskie said.

Goodman replied: "We believe that the goal of public understanding is best met by letting broadcasters, rather than legislators or regulators, judge what kind and combination of programs will most fairly and fully cover a particular issue."

"Broadcast organizations have no political aims. Their newsmen—by training, background and approach—are concerned with reporting events and examining issues as professional journalists, not with winning votes or elections."

Stanton said broadcast news is not perfect. "But it is most certainly more satisfactory than it would be under any system in which news judgments are made by government officials or dictated by legislative or regulatory formulas."

Woman, 82, Lies Helpless In Home For Three Days

City police were forced to break into a home Tuesday afternoon when it was discovered that an elderly woman had fallen in her kitchen.

Mrs. Herbert Stolsenberg, 1032 Temple St., notified police at 4:23 p.m. that she had gone to 1031 E. Temple St. to check on her neighbor, Mrs. Faye Stultz, 82, and saw her through a window lying on the kitchen floor.

Officers said they forced open a screen door and Mrs. Stolsenberg used a key to open the inner door. Mrs. Stolz told officers that she fell sometime Sunday afternoon and was unable to regain her feet. She was admitted to Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Police and Fayette County sheriff's deputies investigated three other non-traffic complaints Tuesday which involved two vandalism reports and the apprehension of a man for military authorities.

Officers checked two men on Dayton Avenue at Jupiter Street Tuesday afternoon and one of them turned out to be a soldier absent without leave from Ft. Meade, Md. Billy W. Day, 20, of Los Angeles, Calif., was lodged in city jail to await military police.

Mrs. William Robinson, 235½ Bell Ave., told sheriff's deputies that she left her home at 8 p.m. Tuesday for a few minutes and discovered three broken windows when she returned. She reported that she had had trouble with a neighbor earlier.

Marvin Johnson, Buena Vista, called sheriff's deputies after the school bus he was driving on Stafford Road at 3:30 p.m. was struck and damaged by a vandal. Johnson said a water-filled balloon was thrown, and the impact broke the windshield. Damage was listed at $75.

Waste Shrinker

NEW YORK (AP) — A new kitchen appliance can compress a week's accumulation of trash and garbage for a family of four into a small disposable bag. The appliance, put out by Sears, Roebuck and Co., should help lower waste collection costs by reducing the volume of trash collected by city sanitation departments.

Arson Seen Possible In High School Fire

City firemen are investigating the possibility of arson in a fire at Washington Senior High School Tuesday afternoon which damaged a dust collector in the industrial arts department.

Superintendent Marshall D. Boggs notified Assistant Fire Chief M. L. Joe Denen of the blaze Wednesday morning and an investigation was begun.

Boggs said that Coach Maurice Pfeifer discovered the fire in the new piece of equipment, valued at $1,800, about 3:30 p.m. He and a custodian used fire extinguishers to douse the blaze and then called the superintendent's office.

Apparently someone stuffed newspapers in the collector and set it on fire. The new piece of equipment was being installed at the rear of the high school building near the shop area. It had never been used. Denen said there was little visible damage to the machinery, but he was unable to determine overall loss. Boggs said the collector will have to be dismantled for inspection before a damage estimate can be made.

The dust collector, a mandatory item for the shop area, is a high speed vacuum machine designed to remove dust, chips and even pieces of wood from the industrial arts room. It includes a 7½ horsepower electrical motor, vacuum sacks and a large fan.

Denen said his investigation has disclosed that several boys were in the area prior to the discovery of the fire. He said they were using the basketball court at the rear of the building.

Food Distribution By CARE Continues

JERUSALEM (AP) — The CARE relief agency has ended 21 years of food parcel distribution in Israel with the presentation here of the agency's 800,000th food package.

CARE's director in Israel, Harold Silcox, said the agency would continue other projects in Israel and the occupied territories, including feeding of about 20,000 mothers and preschool children in the Gaza Strip and providing food rations to about 130,000 Arabs in the territories occupied by Israel in the 1967 war.

CARE spent $21 million during its 21 year parcel distribution program in Israel.
